

STIRRED UP CHAOS

AWFUL ROW IN A SMALL TOWN IN OKLAHOMA.

Two Bullies Pick a Fight in a General Store at Omega, Near Kingfisher, and a General Riot Results—County Officer, Justice of the Peace, Postmaster and a Woman are Hurt—Store is a Wreck—Perpetrators are Arrested and a Crowd of Doomed Men Congregate—Perpetrators in Jail in Kingfisher.

Guthrie, O. T., Dec. 20.—The Kingfisher Free Press has the following details of the reported troubles at the village of Omega:

"Reports of serious and scandalous trouble came from Omega, last week. Joseph Stiles attacked a Mr. E. Dawson, who had gone to the village for his mail, and beat him up badly. He had started home, and as he was unloading his horse, Stiles accosted him, and after some words, struck him, knocked him down and kicked him in the head, leaving him badly hurt. Pending the difficulty Constable Jim Morrissey stood by as an interested spectator without making any effort to stop the difficulty. Dawson claims that he made no effort to resist, as he knew Stiles' friends were on the ground, witnesses of the trouble, and he could have no chance. Dawson is a man over fifty, and Joseph Stiles is a young, athletic fellow, who prides himself on his fighting qualities. While this fight was in progress, Mr. Morrissey, who keeps the store, hearing of the difficulty, started out to see what was going on. He was assaulted, knocked down and kicked by the two men. Stiles then turned on Morrissey, and he was also badly hurt. This was Monday. He and Morrissey returned to Omega that afternoon thoroughly bruised up for the long, muddy trail home. When they got to the store, Dawson was standing in his front yard as they drove by. They shouted at him as they passed, called him vulgar names and threatened to take to Omega he (Stiles) would lick him again.

"They reached Omega about 2 p. m., and proceeded to the store. The store was full of people. Abram was absent, and the store was in charge of his mother and a clerk. Morrissey soon found an excuse to start a row. He first attacked the clerk, a young man of about 18 or 20 years of age, as he was waiting upon customers. Joseph Stiles joined in the row, and the fight became general. Mrs. Abram was struck with a missile and badly hurt. Rev. J. H. Nichols, who attempted to quell the row, was so seriously hurt that he had to be taken to his home. The postmaster and justice, who commanded the peace, received a blow over the head and face; the Elaine county register of deeds, who was in the store also, happened to be in the store also, received a blow on the head, and other persons were more or less hurt. The old man Abram, who was in the store with a gun which was taken from him by the constable, after which he retreated upstairs and remained there. After the row started, the constable and others put Joseph Stiles and Morrissey out of the house and tried to quell the disturbance. After it was over, the store looked like it had passed through a cyclone. The store was knocked down, crockery was smashed, and merchandise scattered around promiscuously.

"As soon as it could be done, 'Squire Smith drew up a warrant against Joseph Stiles and Constable Morrissey, and deputized W. C. Bingham to execute it. In the meantime news of the disturbance had spread through the neighborhood, and the men came swarming into the village, many of them armed. Joseph Stiles and Morrissey had gone into the hotel with relatives and friends. A posse went into the room where they were playing cards, and served the warrants. There were probably seventy-five determined men on the ground to render any necessary assistance. The prisoners were first taken to Squire Smith's house, and then for the purpose of going to the school house for more room in which to conduct the examination.

IN THE MINISTER INNOCENT?

Sensation in the Most Fashionable San Francisco Church.

San Francisco, Dec. 20.—Mrs. Mary A. Davidson has been arrested on the charge of extortion, preferred by Rev. C. O. Brown, pastor of the First Congregational church. Dr. Brown charges her with blackmail, and says that he paid her $500 to secure her silence in regard to his alleged relations with Miss Overman, a young woman from Tacoma, who visited at his house. The First Congregational church is the largest and most fashionable one of that denomination in the city.

Mrs. Davidson, who is a woman about 40 years of age, came to the city during the Midwinter fair as the representative of a Boston corset firm, and lately conducted a corset store of her own here. She has attended a church for about a year, and has taken a great interest in church matters. Miss Overman came here from Tacoma for her health, and was a friend of Dr. Brown, whose family she knew in Tacoma. After a stay of several months, during which time she became acquainted with Mrs. Davidson, Miss Overman returned to Tacoma, but came back to San Francisco, where Mrs. Davidson promised to secure employment for her.

According to Dr. Brown, Mrs. Davidson came to him last November at the time when there was intense excitement in the city over the exposure of several men, and told him she had been commissioned by Mrs. Jane Elizabeth Baddin, a lodging house keeper, to demand $2,000 down and $100 a month for ten years if he did not want his wife. Mrs. Davidson said that Miss Overman had confided in her and would testify against him, and that Mrs. Baddin knew of the commission. Mrs. Davidson pointed out to him that owing to the state of public feeling almost anything that witnesses would swear to would be believed and advised him to settle at once.

Dr. Brown was horrified at the nature of the charges brought against him, and said he would not believe her. He needed, however, in reducing the figures to $500 down and $25 a month for five years. He paid Mrs. Davidson $500, for which she signed a receipt. After paying over the money, Dr. Brown attempted to find Mrs. Baddin, but without success. Finally he met Miss Overman, who was stopping with Mrs. Davidson, and who was stopping with her perforce. She indignantly denied that she had made any charge, and when confronted with Mrs. Davidson's denials, she immediately left Mrs. Davidson's house and went to the home of Dr. Brown, where she is now under the protection of his wife. Then the minister consulted with the deacons of the church and the result is the arrest of Mrs. Davidson. Both the minister and Miss Overman deny that there is the slightest foundation for the charges.

Mrs. Davidson, when seen after her arrest, said that Dr. Brown called on her several months ago and voluntarily confessed his love for Dr. Brown, and that he had promised to pay her $25 a month. A few days after this, Mrs. Davidson says, Dr. Brown handed her $500 to give to Miss Overman, saying he had promised to pay her that amount for ten months. Some time ago, a strange woman, who called herself Mrs. Baddin, called on Mrs. Davidson, and said she knew of Dr. Brown's intimacy with Miss Overman and demanded $10,000 as the price of his silence. About six weeks ago she sent for Dr. Brown and told him of Mrs. Baddin's demands. He said: "It is all true, and more too."

Mrs. Davidson continued: "He refused to see the woman and asked me to handle the business for him. He said: 'You have our hearts' secret,' and told me that Dr. Brown had promised to pay her $25 a month, with $500 down and the rest at the rate of $25 a month. Dr. Brown said he would leave San Francisco within three months, as he had calls from Congregational churches in Brooklyn and Philadelphia.

Next day she paid the $500 to Mrs. Baddin, who was going to leave town, but would return each month for the $25. Mrs. Davidson says Dr. Brown has paid her $25 for Miss Overman in August, September, October, November and December.

She concluded her statement by saying: "I have kept this secret for the sake of the church, and the sake of Miss Overman and Dr. Brown, but the truth must be told. I am sorry I am obliged to divulge these things."

The Chronicle chronicled that Miss Overman is a young woman with red hair and blue eyes. She is said to be a divorced woman. Mattie Overman is her maiden name. Some months ago she came to the Chronicle and offered a story on a prominent man for $1,000. She is not particularly good looking, but is an interesting talker.

So far the police have failed to find any trace of Mrs. Baddin, or the lodging house which she is said to have kept.

The First Congregational church was crowded as the result of the exposure of the alleged blackmailing attempt upon Dr. Brown. The minister appeared as usual and in his sermon referred indirectly to the attack upon his reputation. One of the deacons also spoke and corroborated Dr. Brown's statement that he had consulted with the officers of the church before causing the arrest of Mrs. Davidson. After the church services a number of the congregation shook hands with Dr. Brown and expressed confidence in him.

Mrs. Davidson has been unable to obtain bail, and is still in prison. She says although she may be sent to state prison, she believes her charges against the minister will ultimately be verified. She says she has long been aware of the alleged relations between Dr. Brown and Miss Overman. He had often asked her to pray for him, she says, and once secured a private room in the Y. M. C. A. hall, and she would tell her husband for Miss Overman was consuming him.

"He said," she continued, "he would be coming to take up his family, his profession and his entire career for her. I was greatly shocked and counseled with him."

"Mrs. Davidson's denunciation of his character is utterly inconsistent with her actions for the past year," said Brown.

"As you say she knew I was morally unfit to occupy the position of pastor of my church. Yet she was one of the people who went about singing my praises to the trustees, deacons and other officials of the church, and if I had not given her money and secured signed receipts she would probably have gone about circulating her infamous lies about me. Now she says she would tell her husband as well as legal evidence to prove her real character."

"Miss Overman will tell her story in the court room. She will proclaim my innocence and tell all she knows about the diabolical plot of her pretended friend to ruin me."

MRS. DAVIDSON IN COURT

She Declares Her Resolution to Stay by the Case to the End.

San Francisco, Dec. 20.—The case of Mrs. Mary A. Davidson, charged with blackmailing Dr. Brown, who she accused of intimacy with Miss Martha Overman, and from whom she obtained $500 as hush money, was called on today in court. The case was called on by the district attorney, who claims that he paid the woman the money to secure evidence upon which to insure her conviction. The woman's explanation that the money was for another woman, Mrs. Baddin, who cannot be found, but who, Mrs. Davidson claims, resided a room to Dr. Brown in which to meet Miss Overman. The attorney for Mrs. Davidson applied for a change of venue on the ground of prejudice, finally explaining that Postmaster Judge Campbell had been on the defense, causing general surprise, the court denying the motion for a change of venue. The court stated that he had no quarrel with Dr. Brown, whom he believed to be a truthful and upright citizen. The defendant's counsel recalled an occasion when the minister told Dr. Brown, in the course of a sermon on municipal corruption, read grand jury report, scoring the police inquisitor and Judge Campbell particularly. On that occasion Judge Campbell, who was in Brown's church, rose in his seat and asked permission to correct the pulpit, when Campbell explained that the report was the work of "a lying grand jury," availing Brown, however, from any imputation of untruthfulness.

Mrs. Davidson's attorney applied for a reduction of the prisoner's bail from $1,000 to $500. The court refused to reduce the bail to $500, with the concurrence of Brown's attorney, who stated that he would consent to a still further reduction provided the court

RECORD IS AWFUL

CHAOTIC BOOKKEEPING ON THE FIVE INDIAN TRIBES.

From March to October, According to the Statistic, One Hundred and Eighty-six Murders Were Committed—Record is Now of Five in Washington and Will be Tried by the Dawes Commission to Substantiate Their Charges—Will Have Much Weight With Congress—Names of Those Who Were Murdered.

Washington, Dec. 20.—W. J. Watts and Colonel Hubbard of Muldroy, I. T., today filed with the secretary of the Interior a packet argument for a change in the conditions in their country. The document filed will in due time reach the various committees in congress interested in legislation for that country. The information contained, it is insisted, will be enough to disprove the many statements made by the delegates from the tribes to the effect that it is a very orderly country and that there is no cause of congressional interference because of lawlessness.

The document contains a partial list of murders committed in the Indian Territory from the 5th of March to the last of October. In this time, 186 murders have been committed and accounted for in the record, and the claim is made that the list is not complete. In each case a short statement as to the murder is given. This is set forth as evidence of the need of a change in that country. This is a part of the basis for the position taken by the Dawes commission, and will be used by them in justifying their recommendations for legislation that will break up tribal relations and open that country to settlement, after paying the Indians a fair and equitable amount for their lands.

A synopsis of the list of murders thus collected is as follows:

UMBRELLAS AND DIVORCE

Women Can't Use Everything Legally as Weapons.

Seranton, Pa., Dec. 20.—That the chubbing of a husband over the head with an umbrella is not sufficient ground upon which to divorce a husband from his violent wife is a rule of law just laid down by Judge Archbold in this city. The court holds that Landlord John Horn must present a more specific bill of particulars against his wife, Matilda Horn, if he expects to have his divorce libel against her considered.

The particulars thus far included in the bill set forth that the respondent has offered such indignities to libellant's person as to render his condition intolerable and his life a burden, compelling him to separate from her. He also accuses his wife with striking him with a club and breaking an umbrella over his head, at the same time alleging that she married him only to get possession of his money and property.

It is also alleged in the bill that the respondent has taken no care of the home of the libellant, has kept up a continuous disturbance with him and also with his neighbors, and that he has threatened to ruin the property.

In the opinion requiring a more specific bill of particulars the court says the bill gives no ground for the particularity, that is that she struck him over the head with an umbrella, but this is the only respect in which it meets the requirement of the order. It is evident that no divorce could be granted upon proof of this single act of alleged indignity, and as the libellant is nevertheless confined to that which is set forth on this bill he must either specify something more or drop his suit.

ATTACHED FOUR LOCOMOTIVES

Railroad Company has to Fly Around to Release Property.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—Late this afternoon the Wisconsin Central Railroad company told the circuit court an assumption suit for $25,000 against the Baltimore and Ohio company, and obtained an attachment against the company, and the company's bank account at the National Bank of America, amounting to $70,000. At first it was thought that the attachment would give the court a lien on the Baltimore and Ohio company from taking its passenger car on time tonight, but officials of the road hastened to the sheriff's office and there gave a satisfactory bond for $50,000, releasing the engines.
